Saint Paul's School
Covington, LA

September 30, 2013

Gentlemen,

I really enjoy writing these segments as they both allow and require me to slow down, take a breath, reflect and bask in the nostalgia and positive energy surrounding these forty acres. I need not look for inspiration for this one as it was thrust onto my plate by members of our industrious Touchdown Club, Mrs. Christine Knobloch and Mr. Jerry Eberts. They contacted my office in regard to our working together on an idea for the Homecoming Game program. Having the fortune of being surrounded by constant visual reminders of our history, I suggested a photo of a team of the past, preferably of the leather helmet days, with a tie in to the present as well as to the powerful quote on the back of this year's Gameday shirt...." We are Brothers." Quite frankly and simply, WE ARE!! We always were, from that very first meeting in that place of 1000 names (L-5, currently the Theater Building) and we always will be a fraternal order. Let us never take for granted the special nature of that bond.

Another benefit of my job is that I get to share in that conversation with many of you on a daily basis. I can honestly say that there has been a positive evolution in the awareness, energy and effort in our alumni support. Thank you for that, and I ask that you keep in mind our newly structured Homecoming. For more information, please refer to the school website at www.stpauls.com, and look under Alumni/ Alumni Events/Homecoming Weekend. In particular, please try and attend the complimentary (as in FREE) tailgate party and post game receptions in the cafeteria. The tailgate party will include beverages from Champagne and hors d'oeuvres from The Broken Egg Café. The post game reception will include beverage, more camaraderie and plentiful food from Sweet Daddy's BBQ and Mugshots Grill. This new local establishment, owned by Chris McDonald '97, will be on site grilling their signature burgers.

Please join us as we continue to grow the alumni presence/involvement and truly embody the ultimately selected theme of this year's Homecoming Football Program Cover, "Brothers Then...and Brothers Now."

Echoes of the Past

“Signum Fidei” is written on a small bronze plate affixed to the pavilion outside of Benilde Hall. The plaque does not draw the attention of the passers-by, but those of us who were an integral part of the construction know the name there, Brother Alfred Baltz, FSC, one of Saint Paul’s greats. The plaque reads:

Signum Fidei Pavilion
Dedicated in Honor of Brother Alfred Baltz, F.S.C.

for his

53 years of dedicated service to the Christian Brothers and to his students.

Class of 1993

It is fitting that Brother Alfred be associated with this sign of fidelity. His quiet attention to the details of the campus is perfectly symbolized by the unassuming building that provides shelter and bears his name.

I was able to sit with Brother the day after his ninety-first birthday, gaining wisdom and knowledge from this living pillar of Saint Paul’s. Brother Alfred took simple vows when he was sixteen years old, and professed solemn vows at twenty-five. He has spent half of his career on this campus, as a teacher and a “retired brother.” He spoke with admiration about the founders of Saint Paul’s, both the Benedictines and French Christian Brothers, “They put God first, even before the five core principles were articulated. They were being lived and instilled in the students by these men, and they are evident today.”

He talked about the upheaval the school has endured including: WWI, WWII, The Great Depression, the tumultuous times of the 60’s and 70’s, and yet Saint Paul’s remained true to its mission. “People who come to this campus sense it on some level.” The evidence is found not only in monuments, and memorials, but also in the alumni faculty, “who come back, like Trevor Watkins, they make this an even better place.”

He continued to talk about the blessing of Brother Ray’s leadership and the caliber of the faculty. “Saint Paul’s today is highly organized; best in its history, and it begins with the teachers; they are top notch, especially in the religion department.”

I asked Brother to share his wisdom with the school and its alumni and he stated, “Keep enjoying the blessings of this wonderful school and continue to make it a better place in any way you can.”

Brother Alfred is a man of his word, he continues to work diligently to make Saint Paul’s a better place.

Happy Birthday Saint Paul's

On Saturday, September 14, Saint Paul's celebrated its 102nd birthday: a day of remembrance for the dedication and faithfulness of the Benedictine founders who constructed Saint Paul's into a great place to learn, pray, and grow. On that very day 102 years ago, four teachers along with five priests taught forty-eight students. Today, with over 875 men of God, Saint Paul's strives to be the number one choice for parents on the Northshore. View this website for a brief pictorial of the past 100 years.

Saint Paul's School welcomed the new pre-freshman to the student body and Saint Paul's family at the first Principal's Assembly of the year. Five current faculty members have more than a symbolic tie to students; they have children beginning their SPS careers. Pictured after the assembly are: Hayden and Jacob Coutrado with mom, Claire, Athletic and Administrative Secretary; Kyle Schmitt with mom Jeaneen, English Instructor; Christian Stipe, with father Chris, Science Instructor and Athletic Trainer; Jack Nunez, with father Mick, Physical Education Instructor and Varsity Baseball Coach, and Sean Moser, with father, Sean Moser, Social Studies Teacher and Varsity Soccer Coach. Hayden and Jacob Coutrado and Jack Nunez are legacy students. Jay Coutrado is a '91 grad and Mick graduated in '88.

Preparing for College

After four years of Saint Paul's, it does not take the senior class very long to adjust to new teachers, new curriculum, and new classrooms. However, just as the seniors begin their first calculus class, final religion classes, or last football season, the boys have to look to their next horizon: college. Local along with out of state colleges visit Saint Paul's monthly. Sewanee and Tulane University visited campus in late August and SMU, Springhill College, and Washington University Saint Louis came in early September. College representatives give a twenty to thirty minute information session about what makes their specific college or university right for a Saint Paul's student. These sessions are also open to juniors and sophomores on select days. Five or six other colleges will make visits to campus throughout the year including Furman and Rhodes.

On Wednesday and Thursday September 4 and 5, Mrs. Renee Miller, the senior school counselor, met with the seniors during their Civics class periods to get a head start on college applications. Using one of the mobile computer labs, students could fill out the online Common Application, apply to their favorite colleges, or work on college essays. By Michael Burke '14

Saint Paul's School's Counseling Department is off to a wonderful start assisting the students with the all important college decisions. Recruiters from colleges have begun stopping by to present programs about their school to members of the student body. Josh King from Sewanee was on campus recently. Pictured at the meeting with Mr. King seated on the floor are: Wyatt Lang, Jack Genova, and Thomas Klechak, III. Seated in chairs are: Philip James, Brett Labasse, Parker Jaquillard, Ryan O'Krepki, Byron Morgan, Barrick Roberts, and David Durand. Standing are: John Larson, Patrick Shelby, William Strain, Joseph Almerico, Eric Guin, Jacob McDonald, and Logan Lendrop.

Saint Paul's students Adam Cannon and Christian Flick were declared winners in the Southeastern Louisiana Writing Project Competition for 2013. The "SLWP Writes!" contest is held annually and is open to students in Livingston, Tangipahoa, St. Tammany, St. Helena, Washington, and East St. John parishes, as well as parishes where writing project teachers teach. Adam took first place in the fiction category for Division II, which includes grades 10-12, with his work "Rain." Christian took first place in fiction for Division I, which includes grades 6-9, for his work entitled "The Virus." Adam and Christian will receive medals and be guests at a ceremony in Baton Rouge. The Student Council usually does not have its first school wide canned food drive until late October and early November, but Student Body President David Conroy called for an emergency collection. The Samaritan Center located in Mandeville contacted our school asking for assistance. The Mandeville food bank reached out to the school because its shelves were empty due to the greater demand from the city with the start of school. David, along with student council moderator Mrs. Amy Marshall, organized a canned food drive starting on Tuesday, September 3. The student council quickly posted painted signs, colorful posters, and printed flyers all over campus. Each grade level challenged the others to bring in the most items. The grade with the most items won a pizza lunch. The Lasallian students and faculty brought in hundreds and hundreds of pounds of food throughout the week, and the drive ended at the Saint Paul's and Edna Karr football game on Friday, September 6, which also happens to be the football team's senior night.

Seniors Zachary Buster, and Ian Conroy stack and sort food for the food drive.

David Conroy reflected his role in the last minute food drive: "As student leaders and as a Lasallian school, it is our job and duty to look out for our community. Our community and family do not only include our school but also our surrounding city. While we, the student council, organize the fun events such as dances, pep rallies, and spirit events, we also embrace our role as leaders that help people with real world problems."

On Sunday August 18th five members of Saint Paul's student body, and Troop 160, were presented with the rank of Eagle Scout. The ceremony took place in Our Lady of Peace Chapel, with a reception honoring the young men in school cafeteria.

Pictured in the chapel are: Scout Master, Bob Monahan, and Eagle Scouts, Chase Cochran, Matthew Melancon, Joey Monahan, Ryan Meraux and Garret Grass.

Ken Sears, Saint Paul's Head Football Coach, celebrated the 100th win of his career on Friday, September 13th, in the Mercedes-Benz Superdome with a victory in the Allstate Sugarbowl Prep Showcase against Jesuit High School. Sears has been the head coach at Saint Paul's since 1999. He has attained seven district championships, nine playoff appearances, and three quarterfinal appearances. He has been District "Coach of the Year" seven times, St. Tammany "Coach of the Year" three times, Clarion Herald "Catholic Schools Coach of the Year" in 2007 and 2010. He was selected Metro New Orleans Coach of the Year in 2005. Grant Hebert, #21, kicked a field goal with no time left on the clock after Jesuit committed a penalty on the last play of the game.

Saint Paul's Cross Country team is once again displaying diligence and talent. The Varsity Wolves won the Bayou Boogie in Baton Rouge in the first week of competition, and continued their winning ways by bringing home the first place trophy from The Gulf Coast Stampede in Pensacola, Florida on September 14th. Spencer Albright, Zachary Albright, Michael Burke, Eric Coston, and Don Lipani finished in the top twenty with over 250 runners in the race. Project Lead the Way

Saint Paul's School continues its participation in the Project Lead The Way, STEM classes. In the Principles of Biomedical Science students investigate various health conditions including heart disease, diabetes, sickle-cell disease, hypercholesterolemia, and infectious diseases. They determine the factors that led to the death of a fictional person, and investigate lifestyle choices and medical treatments that might have prolonged the person's life. The activities and projects introduce students to human physiology, medicine, and research processes. Covington Police Captain Jack

West, visited the class on the day they began the investigation into the death of their "person" for the year's study. Pictured with Captain West are: Adam Schmitt, "body" Alex Duet, Chase Mc Dougal, Trey Icamina, Andrew Lambert, Max Egan, Austin Hayes, and, Ethan Rodriguez., and John Carambat, instructor for the class.

Senior Pictures

On Thursday, August 29th and Friday the 30th, Saint Paul's seniors had their senior portraits taken for the yearbook and they were measured for their caps and gowns. Several volunteer moms assisted the boys in making sure everything was perfect.

Saint Paul's student body attended a prayer service and assembly designed to encourage the young men to perform service to the community as one of the basic tenants of the Lasallian Five Core Principles. Speakers at the assembly included (left to right) Lori Cage, and

Susan Morgan, representing the Parenting Center and Monster Mash; Anna Mercante, representing the YMCA; Janie Valle, The Saint Tammany Humane Society, and Gail Anderson, The Covington Food Bank. Although each student at Saint Paul's is required to do ten hours of community service, many students do much more.
