Every other Tuesday, Brother Ray Bulliard, FSC conducts his assembly in the gymnasium for the student body. ## Fellow Alums,

In the past, we have not really focused on alums "giving back" to Saint Paul's with financial contributions. Times have changed, it is time for us to step up and "give back" to the school that played a huge role in making us the men that we are today.

We are not concerned with the amount of money that you give. We are only concerned that you GIVE and here is why: currently only 3% of our alums contribute to the Annual Fund when the national average for Catholic High School's giving is 20%. Obviously, our response is far below the national average and should not be acceptable.

Our focus from now until July 30, 2010 is to increase this statistic from 3% to 30%. Thirty percent of our alums donating is certainly achievable before the end of July. The Alumni Association has created The Alumni Cornerstone Club. Listed below are the charter members, who have given to the Annual Fund at least 75% of the time over the past 10 years.

So you are not alone in this matter .... we all need to step up ! Take time now to write a check in any amount to Saint Paul's School Annual Fund. Also, please indicate on the check your graduation year: Saint Paul's School, c/o Alumni Office, P.O. Box 928, Covington, LA 70434

Your donation for three consecutive years will make you a member of The Alumni Cornerstone Club. The donation amounts will be categorized by giving level, below $500 and $500 and above.

Harry George Friedman '33 24 March, 1915 – 1 March, 2010

The oldest graduate of Saint Paul's has passed. Harry Friedman, '33 slipped away peacefully in the pre-dawn on the first day of March 2010.

More than two years ago, Alumni Director Jimmy Dykes asked me to visit with Harry to do a story and take some photographs for the Wolf Tracks. That meeting evolved into a close friendship. We met regularly for lunch at his favorite Houston restaurant, Andrea's, where the chef and his daughter treated Harry like family. And we talked. We talked about politics, faith, family, physics, philosophy, and generally everything. Harry possessed an incredible mind and great curiosity. To converse with Harry was an adventure of the intellect. We might start out discussing the finer points of photography techniques and end with Aquinas.

When his eyes failed him, Harry simply switched to talking books, and they kept coming, in a steady stream to his apartment. In his last weeks he was still listening, learning, and living. The man was one of a very few, well read, courteous in the manner of the old South, a gentleman beyond measure.

Last week, when we both knew that time was short, I told Harry that he had played an important role in my life. My own father had died when I was in my early thirties, and he and Harry were only three years apart, both were educated in the same tradition and shared remarkably similar upbringing. There are almost no days that pass without my thinking of him and how I would have liked to be able to talk to him about so many things. I told Harry that he filled that role well, and that I was grateful for his presence. That was our last meeting, though we talked a few times on the phone before he died.

Harry Friedman was an exemplary man, educated in the tradition of LaSalle. Harry became what all of us strive for, and few achieve. Among the very finest of the "Brother's Boy's", he kept the faith, fought the good fight, and now is at rest. The planet is a little less for his passing, but we are so much better for his time among us. He graced us with his presence, and will be missed greatly.

The author Thornton Wilder said that the greatest tribute to those who have passed is not grief, but gratitude. We have to give grief its place, and grief will call and extract its measure from us. But after grief we will have gratitude, and we will have it always. Jimmy Dykes's one phone call gave me a dear friend. For that phone call, and for Harry, I am deeply grateful.

Charitable Gift Annuities

A charitable gift annuity is a way to make a gift to your favorite charity, and still receive an income for yourself or others. It is a contract under which a charity, in return for a transfer of cash or other property, agrees to pay a fixed sum of money for a period measured by one or two lives.

Payments from a charitable gift annuity are fixed from the outset. They will neither increase nor decrease, whatever happens to interest rates or the stock market. A charity is contractually obligated to make the payments, even if it has to dip into its general funds to do so.

Types:

- Immediate Gift Annuity – A single life or a joint survivor annuity provides a guaranteed income stream for life. Payments can be made monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually.
- Deferred Gift Annuity – You start receiving payments at a future time, which must be MORE than one year after the date of the contribution. As with Immediate Gift Annuities, payments can be made monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually.
- Flexible Annuity – You choose the year in which to start the annuity. Payments can be structured to start based on your needs. The older the donor when the payments starts, the larger the payments will be.

Advantages:

- Provides for the future of Saint Paul's
- Fixed payments to you, the donor, guaranteed for life at a specific rate. The percentage payment is linked to your age at the time of the gift, so the older the donor, the higher the payment
- Remaining assets are used to benefit Saint Paul's beyond the donor's lifetime
- The residual can be used to establish a restricted or unrestricted gift or even a gift to a field of interest
- Established with a simple one page contract

Tax Benefits:

- Charitable income tax deduction – you can take the charitable deduction for a portion of the gift in the year the gift is made. Charitable deduction reduces your taxable income if you itemize.
- A portion of the Annuitant's total benefits received each year is non-taxable
- A portion of the capital gains tax on appreciated stocks is eliminated and any capital gains tax incurred is spread over the expected life of the annuitant.

Best Assets to Use:

- Cash Gift
- Appreciated stock that is publicly traded
- Real estate

Working as a team never seemed so hard.

Saint Paul's Challenge Night

On Wednesday, March 24th, Saint Paul's held its Fifth Challenge Night in the Gene Bennett Sports Complex. This activity sponsored by the Student Council, pits the students of Saint Scholastica against the students of Saint Paul's in a series of competitive events. Each event is worth a set amount of points; the school with more points at the end of the night is declared the winner. The first game was a volleyball match between SSA's varsity squad and a group of SPS seniors. The men came out strong and won the first game, but the ladies' experience won them the next two games and the series. The next event was the Dizzy Bat race. SSA pulled ahead early, but stumbled on their final leg to give SPS senior Jake Dubuc a stunning come-from-behind victory. The Wolves continued their winning streak in the next two events, a Hippity-Hop race and a basketball free-throw competition. However, they met their match in the Hula Hoop relay. For this game, a hula hoop had to be passed down a chain of students while keeping their arms linked. The girls' small flexibility was too great an opponent for SPS. SSA also won the points for attendance, determined by the percentage of the student body attending. With SSA leading 11-9 going into the last event, the Executive Board Egg Toss, tensions for the Wolves were high. But, the great throwing arms of Saint Paul's were able to overcome and win the three point event, giving the Wolves a spectacular 12-11 victory over the Doves. With the largest turnout recorded this year, the future looks bright for the winning tradition of Saint Paul's.
