Fellow Alumni,

I can honestly say that I have been around campus for many years at many events. I must admit that I have never seen so many alumni together in a visible capacity as at our 4th Annual Crawfish Cook-Off on Saturday April 6th. The weather was spectacular, the crawfish were of the highest quality and taste, and the campus was alive with the community at large, our Saint Paul's community past, present, and future and a strong tone of nostalgia. Not only did we have a vast array of alumni organizing, cooking and enjoying the day, but the Grey Wolves were well represented in a structured manner as was the class of 1993 who incorporated the event into their reunion plans. I would like to especially thank Frank Fouchi '56 for his influence with the Grey Wolves and Larry Abbot for the extensive time that he put into organizing the affairs of his '93 classmates. We hope this helps set a precedent to other classes in regard to utilizing the cook-off as a facet of their reunion weekend. I would also like to thank cook-off committee chairman Chris Freret, Hope House Development Director Liz Taurman, Associate Alumni Director Lee Pierre and alumni office support staffers Danielle Lavie and Shellie Campo for their hours of effort in making the event a huge success. Further, to avoid any omissions, thank you to all associated with the event whether it be through elbow grease, brain power or attendance. There is one last note about the CCO. In addition to serving as a beacon for the alumni department and association, this event addresses one of the fundamental Five Core Principles, concern for the poor and social justice. As advertised, a large percentage of our proceeds benefit Hope House Children's Advocacy Center which provides "child- focused coordination of investigation, prosecution, and treatment of child abuse while helping abused children heal."

REMINDER: Please join us on Saturday, May 4th at 6pm in the school cafeteria for a cocktail party which will be open to ALL alumni, will include both food and adult beverage and will be free of charge. We are blessed to have the assistance of Mr. Eddie Riecke '62 and Mr. Jimmy McCune '62 in hosting this event, and we hope that you have already made it part of your plans. If not, please consider joining us.

Message from Brother Ray "I need your help!"

Dear Alumnus,

If you've been following the progress of Saint Paul's over the years, you know that we have built upon the wonderful legacy that you, our graduates, have left us. Today, our school stands larger and stronger than ever. You have every reason to be proud of your alma mater.

We must, however, continue to progress. Accordingly, I ask for your help by contributing to the 2013 Annual Fund. Many of you have already contributed, but most of you have not. And we need the support of our alumni. Just as in your day, tuition does not cover school operations, much less fund special projects. Only through the dedicated generosity of our alumni can we continue to offer our students, tomorrow's leaders, the finest educational opportunity. Here are some of our plans for this year's drive:

Campus Landscaping	Phase III of Biomedical Sciences Program
Campus Wi-Fi Upgrade	Phase IV of Pre-Engineering Program (Digital Electronics)
Financial Aid	Phase II of Pre-Law Program
Main School Building Stairwell Refurbishing	Teacher Professional Development
La Salle Hall Renovation	Other Miscellaneous Items

While everyone cannot be a large donor, almost all can donate at a small level. I ask that you contribute, no matter how small – even $5 or $1. NO GIFT IS TOO SMALL! My goal this year is to increase the number of givers. Currently we have some alums who send $10 or $20 a month. If all of our several thousand alums did that, Saint Paul's would advance even further. If you can help, either write a check to Saint Paul's Annual Fund and return to me via mail or click on the donate button.

Saint Paul's is blessed today with a wonderful group of students and faculty who are working together to implement our mission. Regardless of your decision in this matter, know of my continued efforts, and those of the Christian Brothers and their colleagues, on behalf of the students of Saint Paul's. Know, too, of my prayer, and those of all of us at Saint Paul's School, for you and your family. Please call me or the alumni office if you have questions or need information.

Sincerely,
 Brother Ray Bulliard, FSC
 17th Christian Brother Principal of Saint Paul's School

Echoes from the Past – Saint La Salle Monument

Here in the Alumni Office, we envision “Echos” as a monthly exposition of the numerous monuments and memorials located on Saint Paul’s Campus. You’ll remember that the Founders’ Circle article covered the biographies of the brave men who started this school. As we begin to research other monuments, we find that the history is sadly lacking.

The Saint La Salle monument sits across from Founder’ Circle in the bend of the main drive (La Salle Drive). This statue is a standard in the Lasallian world and it, or some variation, can be seen at many Christian Brother institutions around the world, most notably the “Mother House” in Rome. It shows our Saint with two young charges in his care and obviously under instruction. As you drive along La Salle drive, the saint and young boys are evident, however what may be missed is the names on the pedestal. The words listed are:

In Living Memory
Hasden H. Dick
Adolph L. Ernst
L. Hebert, Jr.
T. Kentzel
Mrs. Nathaniel B. Knight, Sr.
James J. Monvoisin, Jr.
Dr. Burnley C. White

From what we know, Leon Hebert was a 1929 graduate of Saint Paul’s. His brother William graduated in ‘37 and Jack in ‘42. Leon was killed in a tractor accident cutting grass on the property that is now River Forest. Leon was the uncle of John Hebert ‘67, Howard Hebert ‘70, David Hebert ‘73. He was the great uncle of Jay Hebert ‘94 and uncle by marriage to faculty member Karen Hebert.

T. Kentzel was also a 1929 graduate and the father of Billy Kentzel ‘56 and was killed in a separate tractor accident. His brother Allen was a 1922 graduate. T. Kentzel was the grandfather of Trey ‘81, Louis ‘87 and Joshua ‘93 and the great-grandfather of current students William Kentzel Gement and Christopher Gement.

Adolph L. Ernst was the grandfather of Adolph H. Ernst, Jr ‘51. Adolph Jr. ‘s father Adolph H. Ernst, Sr. contributed towards the expense of erecting the statue and chose to memorialize his father. Adolph Jr. states “The concrete base that the statue sits on was constructed by Brother Ephrem along with the help of Norman Hisler, John Guidry, class of 50, and myself.”

As you can see, the “Living Memory” is with our alumni, faculty, friends and retired brothers. If you can help us preserve this memory, it would be a great help. I can guarantee, God willing, that as long as I am teaching here, it will be passed on.

The Saint Paul's School

Holy Week

Students at Saint Paul's witnessed two wonderful demonstrations of faith to commemorate Holy Week and prepare for Easter Sunday. The Marian Players, under the direction of Denny Charbonnet, performed the Passion Play for the students and faculty on Wednesday, March 27th. The cast included the following students: Lyle Manion portraying Jesus; Justin Elzy as Pontius Pilate; Patrick Logarbo as Judas Iscariot; Thomas Duet as Peter; Alex Stallard as John; Collin D'Angelo and Christian Voelkel as Roman soldiers; Jay Washington, Christian Commander, and Joel Spansel portrayed Simon of Cyrene, one for each performance; and Gerard Gianoli as the Narrator.

On Holy Thursday, March 28, the student body assembled in the Briggs Assembly Center for the Mandatum – the washing of the feet prayer service. This year, junior religion teacher Luke Barwick led the service and called down students, faculty members and parents to have their feet washed by Student Council President Connor Mahoney and Vice-President Justin Elzy. This re-enactment of Jesus washing the feet of the Apostles is truly a touching tradition at Saint Paul's. Music was provided by the Lasallian Band and chorus, which did an amazing rendition of "Just a Closer Walk With Thee." Students left campus at the end of Thursday, prepared for the celebration of the Resurrection.

Founder's Week

Students and faculty began their final six weeks of the 2012-13 school with a special week-long celebration that honors our 102 years of Lasallian tradition and heritage: Founder's Week. The festivities started on Monday, April 15; with the seniors last Honor Roll Breakfast held in the cafeteria.

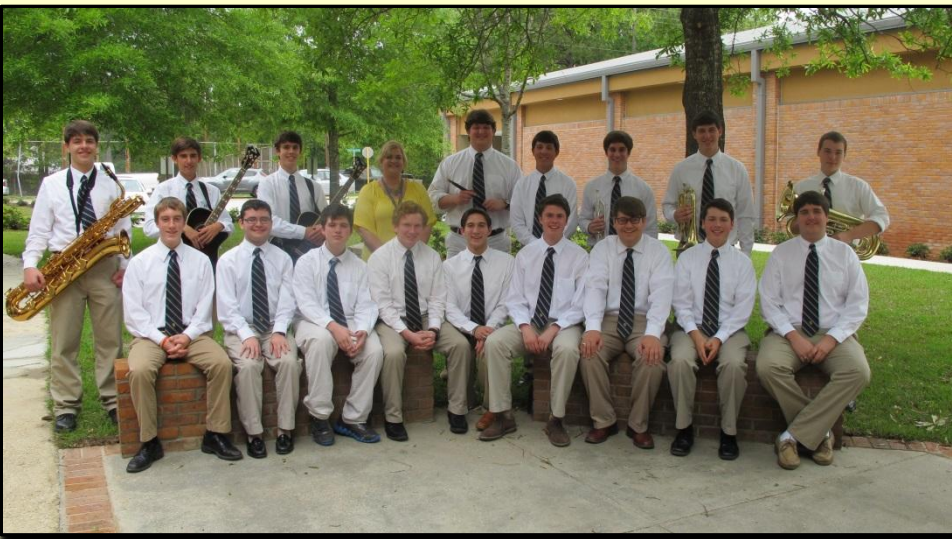

For most Honor Roll Breakfasts, students who made all A's and B's or straight A's for the third quarter enjoy a nice meal of steamy pancakes with their parents. After everyone receives food for the body, Brother Ray then comes in and gives everyone assembled there food for the mind: vocabulary words. However, for their last Honor Roll Breakfast, the seniors did it a little differently. This time, three seniors chose and presented their own vocabulary words to the audience. Bobby Bayer, David Englehardt, and Daniel Garraway came up with the words, and Brother Ray thoroughly enjoyed this brief vocabulary lesson to begin his day.

Now each day of the week centered around one of the five Lasallian Core Principles. On Monday, in honor of respect for all persons, each student was challenged to perform two random acts of kindness throughout the school day. Because Tuesday's principle was quality education, at the beginning of every period, all teachers gave their class a background of their educational studies and why they chose to become teachers.

On Wednesday, April 17, the student body came together in the Briggs Assembly Center and celebrated a mass since the day's principle was faith in the presence of God. Father Matthew Clark, Saint Paul's chaplain, led the mass, and the Liturgical Band harmoniously praised God with its music. And on Thursday, the student body again gathered in the Briggs Assembly Center for an "all school" assembly focused around service for the principle of concern for the poor and social justice. Students watched a video displaying images and quotes from teachers who worked on the faculty service day back in February. Then three teachers gave speeches describing how service to others has directly impacted their lives. Mr. Pichon, moderator for Habitat for Humanity, talked about the rewarding experience of building affordable housing for the needy; Mrs. Jan Gardner spoke about her charitable work with the Covington Food Bank; and Mr. Tommy Lahey spoke about one of his mission trips to Jamaica.

At the end of the assembly, students dropped off one pound bags of rice and beans for the Founder's Week food drive. After all the bags had been collected, a group of students drove the bags over to the Covington Food Bank. Saint Paul's donated over 2500 pounds of rice and beans.

On Friday in an attempt to bring the classes closer together in light of the principle inclusive community, the students participated in the Third Annual Field Day Games run by the Lasallian Youth Leaders. These Games changed drastically from the two previous years. Instead of each grade level competing against each other, the student body was divided into fifty-two separate "WolfPacks" with a teacher serving as the WolfPack leader. Each WolfPack dressed up according to its own theme, and the themes ranged greatly: Swamp People, Hawaiian shirts, famous athletes, book characters, and mystical creatures were only a few of the many themes. Also, all the games and activities were played in Hunter Stadium instead of being spread out across campus like the past two years.

Field Day officially began during lunch. Because of the special day, the Lasallian Youth Leaders came up with the idea to sell Raising Cane's chicken fingers to students as a fundraiser. The lunch was a huge success; hundreds of students enjoyed the delicious chicken along with the crinkle fries and soft Texas toast. The group raised thousands of dollars which will go to support Saint Paul's twin school in Kenya.

After lunch, the school once again huddled into the Briggs Assembly Center for the first event: Quiz Bowl. Each WolfPack competed individually. After this test of brains, the packs moved into Hunter Stadium for brawnier activities such as obstacle courses, Frisbee toss, egg and spoon race, and even a 100 meter dash. After several hours of fun, everyone moved into the Gene Bennett Sports Complex to watch the senior volleyball team take on the faculty team. Although the score was not really counted, everyone in the stands could clearly pick the winner.

Life Skills for Seniors

On Tuesday, April 9, the class of 2013 participated in Life Skills Day, which was set up by the Renaissance Board and held in the Briggs Assembly Center. As co-chairman of the Renaissance Board, Al Nastasi ran the event. This event, lasting all day, covered certain areas that are essential for seniors living on their own. After being separated into four large groups, the seniors rotated to four different discussions: how to manage bank accounts and balance check books; how to succeed in college and plan schedules; how to dress for job interviews and build a resume; and how to take out loans and handle credit cards.

After the discussions, everyone broke for lunch, a meal provided by Pat's Seafood. The Mother's Club served jambalaya, salad, fried catfish, hush puppies, potato salad, and dessert. Once all 160 plus seniors were fed, the senior class listened to a panel of recent Saint Paul's alumni. This panel consisted of Brandon Boudreaux, Will Syll, and Michael Gegenheimer. These graduates answered questions about college life, study schedules, internships, and student jobs. Because of Saint Paul's deep rooted Lasallian values, father Daniel Brouillette from Saint Peter's Church in Covington gave a talk about how to continue to live a Christian devoted life throughout college. Brother Ray and Al Nastasi finished the day by explaining to the seniors how important it is to remain active in the Saint Paul's community as alumni. With their help, Saint Paul's can become an even better "place to grow up."

Gymnastics Wolves – State Champions - Again!

On Friday, April 26th, our gymnastic wolves competed in the LHSAA Division I Men's Gymnastics State Meet in Baton Rouge. When the tumbling and flipping had subsided, the Wolves captured the coveted State Championship Trophy for the second year in a row.

Running Wolves – District Champions - Again!

Congratulations to the 2013 Saint Paul's Track and Field team for repeating as the District 6 5A Champions on Tuesday, April 16th. The Wolves finished 1/2 point ahead of Ponchatoula High School in as exciting of a finish as you will ever see in a track meet or any sporting competition for that matter. We truly embodied our " pack" motto as we scored points in 16 out of 18 events while only winning four events versus Ponchatoula who won seven.

Individual District Champions were Cameron Robichaux in the Pole Vault, Zach Albright in the 1600 meters, D.C. Lipani in the 3200 meters, and Brandon Charitat in the discus.

In addition to defending the District Title, on March 28, the Wolves won their first Parish title in 12 years and only the second in nearly 40 years. It has truly been an exciting year for these young men.

Sea Wolves

The Sea-Wolves, our newest technology team, competed in an underwater robotics event in Biloxi, MS Saturday March 9th. The team consisting entirely of 8th graders competed against fifteen other teams from the Mississippi Gulf Coast. In the obstacle course, Cade Icamina and Jordan Wyble ran in one heat and Chris Woodman and Quinn Arnold in another. The event was a race against the clock where the drivers had to manipulate their ROV through submerged hoops. Things didn't go as anticipated as the tether cable wrapped on a hoop and our ROV limped home. In the deep water challenge Shane Strander and Stephen Beach had to knock twelve rings off a set of goals, retrieve them from the bottom of the pool and drop them a basket. Sounds easy, but it's quite challenging. They managed to knock off one of their motors while knocking off a set of rings, disabling the ROV, and still managing nine points overall in the allotted time. When the waves settled and engines stopped buzzing the Sea-Wolves performed "ADMIRABLY" and vowed to return for better results. Not bad for our first year underwater robotics team the Sea-Wolves.
