The Saint Paul's School
Covington, Louisiana

December 31, 2010

Welcome Mike!

Beginning in January, Mike Richard '68 will begin duties as the Director of Alumni Operations at Saint Paul's School. Mike moved to Covington from New Orleans in 1955 at the age of five. He was enrolled in Saint Peter's School until the fourth grade. From there, he attended Saint Paul's and graduated in 1968. Mike was awarded a track scholarship and attended the University of Louisiana-Lafayette (formally USL), graduating in 1973. After graduation, he realized a life-long dream by joining the Air Force where he flew F 4's and F 15's on active duty and later with the Louisiana Air National Guard. He retired with the rank of Lt. Colonel in 1993. In 1984, Mike was hired by American Airlines, flying both domestic and international routes. He retired in 2008 as a Captain with almost twenty-five years of service. Mike has been married to his wife Pam for 18 years. He has two children, Jennifer and Scott, and two grandsons, Jacob and Colin. As the son of the late Lloyd and Kathryn Richard, Mike has strong family ties with Saint Paul's. His older brother, Don, graduated in 1959 and his father, Lloyd, served as President of the Saint Paul's Athletic Association for several years.

Gentlemen,

It is with great excitement and anticipation that I look forward to assuming the duties as your Alumni Director. Some of you may remember me from my days here at Saint Paul's in the 1960's. For those of you who don't, I'm hoping to meet you in the very near future.

This year we are celebrating the 100th Anniversary of Saint Paul's School and there are numerous Centennial events scheduled during the year. I encourage all of you visit our web site at www.stpauls.com and plan to visit the campus during one of these events. One of the biggest improvements happening this year is the renovation of Lasalle Hall. I know a few of you ex-boarders would be glad to volunteer to help with the renovation, but we have that well in hand!

I would be remiss if I didn't acknowledge the outstanding leadership and numerous accomplishments Jimmy Dykes has overseen during his tenure as Alumni Director. Over the past 2 ½ years under his guidance, the Saint Paul's Alumni Association has thrived. His will be very big shoes to fill, but with your assistance, I'm sure Alumni participation and numbers will continue to grow.

I want to thank Jimmy, Brother Ray and Brother Gale for having the confidence in me to continue to make this Alumni Association the best it can be. I look forward to working with all of you and hope I can count on your support.

Have a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Mike Richard '68

The Centennial Calendar is now on sale in the administrative building for ten dollars. Funds raised from the sale of the calendar will help finance projects taking place during the centennial celebration.

"The Walk Through History is a real opportunity for the Saint Paul's family to re-connect with our past. The documents written in French put us back at the beginning with the first Brothers."

Ann Forster, Saint Paul's librarian and member of the historical committee

Renaissance Board

Alumnus Craig Paretti '93, owner of The Paretti Family of Dealerships, will join Saint Paul's Renaissance Board beginning with the new year. Saint Paul's Renaissance Education/Business Partnership Program is an Invitation to excellence! It brings creative and effective achievement to the forefront in school and community through creative and effective partnership, performance, and promotion between students, teachers, and local businesses. The Renaissance Education/Business Partnership Program provides leadership for the process that empowers students, educators, parents, and business representatives to work together to encourage achievement, celebrate success and increase community involvement. The Renaissance Board organizes and oversees the annual Celebrity Waiters' Dinner event as a means of raising funds to support the goals of the Board.

The specific goals of the Renaissance Board are to fund: the college tour, recognition luncheons, Life Skills Day for seniors, student financial aid, Habitat for Humanity, and professional conference and workshops for faculty. These funds are generated by the annual Celebrity Waiters' Dinner event.

Gift Annuities

A charitable gift annuity is a contract (not a "trust"), under which a charity, in return for a transfer of cash, marketable securities or other assets, agrees to pay a fixed amount of money to one or two individuals, for their lifetime.

A person who receives payments is called an "annuitant" or "beneficiary". The payments are fixed and unchanged for the term of the contract. A portion of the payments are considered to be a partial tax-free return of the donor's gift, which are spread in equal payments over the life expectancy of the annuitant(s).

The contributed property (the gift), given irrevocably, becomes a part of the charity's assets, and the payments are a general obligation of the charity. The annuity is backed by the charity's entire assets, not just by the property contributed. Annuity payments continue for the life/lives of the annuitant(s) no matter what the investment experience of the gift annuity fund.

On Sunday, December 12, Saint Paul's continued an important tradition, luminaries, lighting the campus with thousands of candles. The Christian Brothers from New Mexico brought this celebration to the school and it has continued for a number of years. The student body works on the bags at advisory, writing a prayer request on the bottom of each bag and folding the top down twice to make the bag ready for the sand and the candle. Members of the Student Council, under the direction of Ann Forster, the National Honor Society, under the direction of Jeaneen Schmitt, and members of the Mother's Club filled bags and lit candles. The band played and caroling filled Founders' Circle. Viewers anxiously awaited the new message, Maranatha, which is an ancient Aramaic prayer meaning "Come, Lord Jesus." Brother Ray teaches the students this prayer at the first Principal's assembly of Advent. The school chooses to honor the traditions of our Christian Brothers with this event and wish our community, friends and families a safe and joyful holiday season.

Welcome Sarge

Senior Master Sergeant Jim Tucker joined the staff of Saint Paul's School as the Aerospace Science Instructor in November 2010. He was born in Little Rock, Arkansas in 1967, where he attended and graduated from Monticello High School. Jim entered the United States Air Force in 1986 and served his country proudly and honorably for twenty-four plus years. He, wife Trina, and son Caden live in Madisonville. He enjoys the outdoors, sports, physical fitness and the sport of boating!

The eighth grade English Honors class visited Eastside Primary School as part of the Brown Learning Foundation Grant. The students wrote themed based alphabet books and dedicated each book to a child in the first grade class of Marilyn Moore. The students became "Reading Buddies" for an afternoon, reading an the personalized alphabet book, and then reading a trade book as well. The first grade students were presented with literacy gifts bags including notebooks, markers, crayons, pencils, and scissors. The students visited and discussed the information in the books, and the afternoon ended with cookies and juice for everyone. The eighth graders will write a non-fiction book in the spring and return to Eastside for another afternoon of reading.

Soccer Wolves

The soccer Wolves have kicked off their season with high expectations after defeating pre-season number one ranked Jesuit in a scrimmage 1-0. This was the first loss in two years for the two time defending state champion Jesuit team. The Wolves started off with a pre-season ranking of 4th in the state and have since moved up to take over the number one spot after a 2-0 win over Brother Martin, and a 4-0 win over Catholic High of Baton Rouge, and a 3-0 victory over number Lafayette. The wolves were also able to capture the prestigious Dutchtown Tournament title after winning all three of their games.

Celebrity Waiters' Dinner 2011

"Irish-Italian New Orleans Style"

On Thursday, March 17, 2011, Saint Paul's School will host the eleventh annual Celebrity Waiters' Dinner. This year's theme is "Irish-Italian New Orleans Style". Reserve your table now, as they fill up quickly, by contacting the Development Office at 985-892-3200 ext 1270 or development@stpauls.com.

This year, Celebrity Waiters' Dinner will have an added element of excitement when Joey Fortner, CAGA, PhD, takes the stage as the auctioneer. Dr. Fortner held his first public auction at the age of twelve in 1979. In 1989, at the age of twenty-two, Joey became one of the main auctioneers for one of the largest and most prominent auction companies in Atlanta, Georgia. Joey then founded Fortner Auction Service in 1993. In 1996, Joey wrote and recorded the "New Auctioneer Song" in Nashville, Tennessee. The song was an instant hit and was played on the radio nationwide, making Joey the second auctioneer in history to record a song using the auctioneer's chant. Just recently, Dr. Fortner did an auction for Falcon's quarterback Matt Ryan and Braves player Andrew Jones.

Be sure to confirm your reservations for Saint Paul's Celebrity Waiters' Dinner scheduled for Thursday, March 17, 2011. By attending this dinner event, you will not only enjoy the Irish-Italian themes as seen in costumes and table decorations, you will also be entertained by a nationally known, charismatic auctioneer.

"Sea and Believe"

The framed, Giclee limited edition print shown at left, will be sold during the Live Auction at Celebrity Waiters' Dinner. This print depicts the awesome Cliffs in County Clare, Ireland looking across the expanse of the Atlantic Ocean towards the distant lights of New York City. It is a tribute to all those who left Ireland during troubled times and bridged the gap by finding a new life in America.

The man behind the famous prints, Philip Gray, was born in Cork, Ireland in 1959. Since he was five years old, he has had a passion for art. Philip joined the Navy when he was sixteen and while at sea, he began to paint. Philip Gray prints are seen to be reflecting the beauty of Ireland and the seas. This symbolizes his life as a part of the Navy, where he spent almost seventeen years at sea. All his previous experiences in the Navy have helped him discover that the shallow surface of the seas reflects the exterior part of us and its abyss symbolizes our inner man. Philip Gray's works have become very popular throughout Ireland and England.

On December 3rd, after weeks of hard work, the Saint Paul's senior physics classes launched their trebuchet devices in the annual student competition. Each year, students are required to design, build and launch their very own medieval siege devices for a graded project.

A trebuchet, a type of medieval siege weapon that acts as a long-range catapult, was designed in China during the fifth century B.C. The trebuchet was made famous during Edward Longshanks' siege of Stirling Castle in Scotland in 1304, with the use of the trebuchet "Warwolf." Uses for trebuchets eventually went away once gunpowder was developed and canons and guns became the norm.

A trebuchet has four main components to it including the base, the throwing arm, the axel and the counterweight. The object being thrown, in this case a soft drink can, is placed in a sling, usually a strip of leather or denim, and as the counterweight drops, the opposite end of the throwing arm is flipped over, thus projecting the object through the air.

In the yearly event, students gather on the school's practice soccer fields next to the baseball stadium to see how far they can launch various soft drinks. The project calls for each group of four to throw a soft drink fifty meters (approximately one hundred sixty four feet) to acquire an "A" for the project. The trebuchet must be smaller than four feet by eight feet with an eight foot throwing arm and a counterweight limit of two hundred pounds.

Connor Fly, Jordan Daigle, Christopher Abide and Wade Copeland, with an official throw of eighty-five meters (two hundred seventy-five feet) took the honors as longest toss.

Inclusive Community

As Saint Paul's entered the Advent Season, concentration was given on the Lasallian Core Principal Concern for the Poor and Social Justice, with the annual Adopt-A-Family Program. The student body also participated in a blood drive in honor of Gene Bennett on December 9th. To work on Inclusive Community the Student Council lit the campus with luminaries on Sunday, December 12th. The student body demonstrated the Lasallian Core Principal of Quality Education by ending the semester with exams.

Math Wolves

The Fighting Math Wolves boarded a bus on Saturday, November 20th to compete in the 2nd annual De La Salle Math Tournament. A good time was had by all! There were 225 student mathletes competing from twelve schools. Calculators were allowed only on the interschool test. The schools were not divided by size or magnet school designation. The winners of the individual events for Pre Algebra are Kyle Cleveland, first place, Aaron Nguyen, second place and George Cazenavette, third place. Students Austin Barrios, Aaron Nguyen, George Cazenavette and Kyle Cleveland won first place for the team event of Pre Algebra and Students Adam Grashoff, Shawn Wesley Skinner, Logan Sellers and William Crawford place third in the team event for Advanced Math.
