Josh Nunez '15

What do you value most about your Saint Paul's education and experience? I value how Saint Paul's offers a wide array of academic and extracurricular activities. From the many clubs and organizations to its competitive sport teams, one was always given a chance to learn and grow in his environment. The opportunity I had to join the theater program while simultaneously being involved with Student Council and the football team allowed me to explore all areas that interested me as young man.

Do you have any other family members currently attending or who have attended Saint Paul's? I am a proud to say I am the first of my family to graduate from Saint Paul's. My younger brother, Alex (Class of '17) graduated a few years after me. I hope to one day continue sending Nunez's to this great high school!

Who was your favorite or most impactful teacher? Though so many teachers greatly impacted my life during those 5 years, one that stands out above all is Brother Richard Kovatch. He constantly encouraged me to always have a 'heart of gold.' Thank you, Brother Rich! I have not forgotten your kindness.

What advice would you give to current students or young alumni? As life progresses and opens new doors and opportunities, never forget the place that developed you during your formative years. It may not be as easy to see when you're younger, but Saint Paul's instills in you the foundation needed to be successful in all facets of life. Saint Paul's Forevermore!

Why do you continue to support the Saint Paul's mission? I choose to continuously live out the mission because it helped mold me into the man that I am today. I want to see that mission spread to younger generations. Every young man deserves as good place to grow up!

In what ways do you continue to be involved with Saint Paul's at this phase of your life? Although I am still young, I try to involve myself with Saint Paul's as much as I can. I currently serve as the alumni representative for my class. We are soon to be celebrating our 5-year reunion. I cannot wait to host this event and bring together my brothers for the first time in a few years.

What would you describe as your greatest takeaway from Saint Paul's? My greatest take away is the brotherhood that was formed during my years at Saint Paul's. I cherish so many friendships to this day that were formed on that campus.

Education: B.A. in Mass Communication with a degree focus on Political Communication and a Minor in Business Administration from Louisiana State University (May 2019)

School News

Over many past Thanksgivings, Saint Paul's has been collecting thousands of pounds worth of food for the hungry of Covington, St. Tammany Parish and Washington Parishes. At the beginning of November, posters are put up around campus, teachers announce the drive to their students, and Coach Sears, the dean of students, tells the student body and the faculty the details over the Wolf TV. Students then bring in cans of green beans and corn, boxes of cereal, bags of rice, and jars of peanut butter. These are collected in bags in the classrooms for two weeks during the drive. About a week before class lets out for Thanksgiving break, the student body carries the hundreds of bags of food to the waiting seniors' trucks and fills the empty truck beds with food donations. These seniors then drive to the Northshore Food Bank and deposit the food. The drive is a huge help for the needy of area and it helps get them through Thanksgiving with plenty of food.

This year, the Northshore community has organized another event to help the food bank, The Battle for the Bank. The Battle for the Bank was a basketball tournament on November 16 between schools in and around Covington, including: Covington High School, Saint Paul's School, Northlake Christian, and Archbishop Hannan High School. The cost of admission to this event is two nonperishable food items for the food bank. This event will increase the contributions to the food bank from the local community.

Students happily load waiting pickup trucks with bags of food.

Saint Paul's School has been the largest single contributor to the local food bank for many years with their fall food drive. The 2019 Thanksgiving Food Drive garnered over 9000 pounds of food. Mrs. Yvette Roussel, Development Associate of the Food Bank, commented, "Thank you for planning another hugely successful Saint Paul's food drive. The SPS family truly demonstrates its call to service through its outpouring of support for each and every food drive. The students delivered 15 truckloads of food items this morning that filled 21.5 watermelon containers! This donation today is enough to provide for approximately one week's worth of food box distributions for our Food Bank families. Our Food Bank families are those in our community that must make the unfortunate decision to choose between medical needs or meals, home utilities or meals, or even clothing or meals. We are forever grateful to Saint Paul's School, its students and families who help provide the essential and basic need of food that is vital for these families."

The students also help the food bank with the "Stuff the Bus" campaign in the spring. This year, members of the sophomore class used their service days before the Thanksgiving vacation to work at the food bank, sorting food, stocking shelves and packing boxes. The service to the food bank fulfills the Lasallian Core Principle, "Concern for the Poor and Social Justice."

Jazz 'N Roll – Celebrates 30 Years

Saint Paul's School celebrated thirty years of our Jazz 'N Roll event on Saturday, November 2. The evening began with a pre-event patron party held in Briggs Assembly Center followed with the traditional buffet dinner, live music, and silent auction. As always, Special Events Director, Mrs. Shellie Campo, decorated the Center with festive balloons, fabrics, and lights. Dinner was provided by Gary Bonano Catering which included Shrimp Remoulade, Crawfish Roban Pasta, Fried Fish, and a carving station with beef and pork tenderloin. Mobile bidding for the silent auction enticed the crowd to relax at our dining tables, eat a delicious meal while enjoying bidding with their cell phones. The crowd was entertained by the Jimmy Maxwell Orchestra.

Honor Roll Breakfast

Quality
Education

The end of the first quarter at Saint Paul's brings many things to our school, sweatshirts left on benches after the sun warms the campus, football playoff games, swimming and cross country state meets, and of course the traditional "Honor Roll Breakfasts" enjoyed by parents and students alike. On five individual days the ordinary morning breakfast is exchanged for a cafeteria that is filled with students who deserve accolades for their academic accomplishments and their proud parents. Chick-fil-A biscuits and fruit are graciously served by members of the administration and the development office. The event begins with a prayer "For Students and Teachers."

After breakfast is served, Mr. Joe Dickens, Assistant Principal, recognizes by name the members of the honor rolls. After the recognitions and applause, the main event begins, Brother Raymond Bulliard, FSC, President of Saint Paul's School, does one of his favorite things. He teaches a vocabulary lesson using words he feels will serve both the students and parents well. His continual stress on vocabulary is backed by the research of Johnson O'Connor who after twenty years of study concluded, "A person's vocabulary level is the best single predictor of occupational success."

To promote occupational success in the Saint Paul's community, Brother Ray gives the honor roll breakfast crowds four words that hopefully they will include in their daily communication. This quarter's words included two that can often be used within the Saint Paul's community: indomitable (incapable of being overcome or vanquished (another star word); and altruist, (a person unselfishly devoted to the welfare of others.) The second two words were opposite of those, and rarely used within the Saint Paul's community: otiose, (serving no useful purpose) and solipsist, (one with extreme preoccupation of one's own feelings, self absorbed.)

Of course, Brother expects the young men of Saint Paul's not only to learn the roots and definitions of these important terms, but he also expects them, as products of Lasallian education, to follow the path of our Founder, Saint John Baptist de LaSalle, and put indomitable and altruist into the daily practice of their lives.

Once again, the Honor Roll Breakfasts have served a dual purpose, filling the stomachs and the minds of those deserving young men who have made the most of the first quarter. And we all know the vocabulary lessons will continue for the second and third quarters.

Aqua Wolves

Four in a row was the chant from the Aqua Wolves at the recent Northlake Regional Championship. Saint Paul's completed a dominant performance, amassing 457.5 points over 2nd place Mandeville(267) and 3rd place Fountainbleau (228). The Wolves were led again by their three Co-Captains who all scored first place finishes. Senior Drew Putfark captured the title in the 100 breaststroke, his signature event, for the second year in a row. Senior Jesse Cheng was a double winner with top finishes in the 100 and 200 yard freestyle. Junior Austin Peak was champion in the 100 yard backstroke and runner up in the 200 yard Individual Medley. Rounding out the top three finishers was Sophomore Cameron Smith, who took 3rd in both the 200 yard free and the 100 yard butterfly.

Several individuals also placed in the top 16 of their respective races, scoring points for the team. Those swimmers are: Evan Abraham, 4th and 7th; Jack McNamara, 4th and 7th; Christian Kramer, 7th and 8th; David Barcelona, 6th and 6th; Brady Billiot, 7th and 14th; Scott Messa, 6th and 11th; Roman Fouchi 6th and 12th; Jack Rogers, 8th and 10th; Bradford Day 9th and 10th; Mason Byrne, 10th and 16th. Also completing the season with life time best performances were Brendan Stabile and newcomers this year, Riley Hidalgo and Johnny Palmer. The final exclamation was made when the boys closed the meet with a victory in the 400 free relay, thereby providing the Wolves with a clean sweep first in all three relays contested.

Cross Country Wolves

Saint Paul's Wolves Cross Country team continued its winning tradition on Saturday, November 2nd, by winning the District 6 5A Cross Country Meet held at Ponchatoula High School. The Wolves brought home first place trophies in both the Junior Varsity and Varsity races. This title is the twelfth consecutive district title for the varsity Wolves and the sixteenth time in the past nineteen years that Wolves have dominated the rest of the field.

The Junior Varsity Wolves took the honors with a score of 19, beating Mandeville with a score of 47 and Fontainebleau with a score of 84. The Wolves took eight of the top ten places in the run. Robert Smith was the champion, followed closely by teammates: Gage Graham (3), Alex Schlottman (4), Nick Verret (5), Riley Hidalgo (6), Michael Valliant (7), Christopher Franke (8), and Jimmy Breaux (9).

The Varsity Wolves took the championship with a score of 21, defeating Mandeville with a score of 50, and Fontainebleau with a score of 84. Patrick Elliot was the champion winning the race with a time of 15:32. Rounding out the top ten for the varsity Wolves were: Evan Pardo (2, 16:01), Jake Porte (5, 16:36), Harrison Elliott (6, 16:38), Blaine Sullivan (7, 16:39), Harrison Weisinger (9, 16:40), and Nicholas Ditta (10, 16:47.)

The Cross Country Wolves ran great races at the Regional Meet on November 8 with sixteen teams and over 100 runners in the competition. The varsity Wolves finished second with a score of 44, behind Baton Rouge Catholic (29).

Saint Paul's Cross Country runners traveled to Natchitoches to compete in the state championships on Tuesday, November 19th at the Walter Ledet Track Complex. The Wolves finished third in the challenging race: Catholic High of Baton Rouge, finished first with a score of 36 and average race time of 16:13; Ruston placed second with a score of 95 and average race time of 16:37. Saint Paul's finished in third place with a score of 158 and average race time of 16:59. Patrick Elliott finished third overall and Harrison Elliott finished thirteenth, the only two of Saint Paul's runners to finish in the top twenty.

The Wolves will celebrate the accomplishments of the season at Benedict's on Monday, December 9th.

Wolves on Wheels

At Saint Paul's School, a portion of the student body are engineers, mechanics, and race car drivers all in one. The Wolves on Wheels program headed by science and engineering teacher John Carambat and math and engineering teacher Richard Pichon, builds ultra-efficient electric race cars throughout the year. "We spend about four hours a week for thirty-six weeks designing and building our cars," said senior Thomas Miller, who has participated in the club since sophomore year. Miller continued, "We build about seven cars a year, all leading up to a race put on by Electrathon America in Pensacola. We are also planning on going to another race in Birmingham this year."

While one of the goals for building the cars is to compete in these races, the club is also meant to build up important skills for the students involved. "We build engineering design skills, welding skills, mechanical assembly ability, and, most of all, problem-solving skills. This is a hands-on club with some of the most able minds in the school," said Carambat.

Some students intend to take the skills they learn in Wolves on Wheels to their profession in college. Miller, who plans on attending LA Tech, wants to take the skills he has learned in the program to participate in SAE Baja, engineering and design event that puts teams from different colleges all over the world in head-to-head competition.

The workshop where Wolves on Wheels work twice a week is a clear indicator of the engineering prowess that occurs there. Students wear welding masks as they attach metal rods to make car frames; sparks illuminate the wall as freshman Evan Leaber saws off some metal bar for more building later. They are in the middle of constructing what should be their fastest car ever, the Model-X. "This wheel is an electric motor, kind of like the spinning part of a hand drill," said Miller. The motor and aerodynamic design is supposed to make the Model-X much faster than the competition.

Not all of the cars are built solely for competition, though. Last year, students built an electric chariot that drove around the gymnasium and through campus during pep rallies. The "Batmobile" built last year is additional proof that Wolves on Wheels takes pleasure in making creatively designed cars where form does not completely lose out to function. "It is a joy to see these guys imagine the coolest cars they can come up with and then learn all of the skills necessary to make their dreams a reality," said Carambat. He continued, "It has been both a pleasure and a challenge to manage this club. It is a lot of work and I couldn't do it without the help of Mr. Richard Pichon." Students involved will no doubt continue learning these essential skills for as long as Wolves on Wheels continues.

Lasallian Youth

Saint Paul's School sent a group of young men to the Young Lasallian Assembly held at Saint Mary's College, located in Moraga, California in June of 2019. This gathering brought together over 300 youth from eighteen Lasallian high schools in the west and southwestern part of the United States as well as a delegation from Northern Mexico. The week long program was spent reflecting on the vocational journey of St. John Baptist de La Salle, the Founder of the Christian Brothers and Patron Saint of Teachers, each student's personal journey, and the Lasallian mission alive in the world today. These students were invited to a special luncheon in October with Brother Chris Patino, Director of the District Office of Vocational Ministry, and a member of the Executive Planning Committee for the Lasallian Youth Assembly. Saint Paul's is a member of the Lasallian District of San Francisco New Orleans. Pictured at the luncheon standing are: Paul Scoriels, Social Studies Teacher; Jeff Ramon, Campus Minister; Brady Billiot, Miles Gensler, Andrew Lacoste, Adam Philippe, Jackson Luscy, Ian McCarthy, Brother Chris Patino and Joel Rodriguez. Seated are Ben Broussard, Callan Danenhower, Ben Klein, Jesse Cheng, Andrew Hollingsworth, Ricky Riordan, and Will Blossman.
