Description of School

The Saint Paul's School, founded in 1911, is a school for young men in grades 8-12. Located in the town of Covington about one hour north of New Orleans, Saint Paul's is owned and operated by the De La Salle Christian Brothers, a 342-year-old Catholic worldwide congregation of teaching brothers. Today, three brothers and 73 dedicated men and women comprise the faculty. The 40-acre school campus is noteworthy for its beauty and functionality. Towering pines, spacious grounds and playing fields, a stocked campus pond, and 15 buildings blend together to provide a unique educational environment for the students. The school has a student population of 890. Students are primarily from the Covington, Mandeville, and Madisonville area, but many commute from the towns of, Hammond, Bogalusa, Slidell, and Franklinton, Louisiana. The philosophy of the Christian Brothers encourages a diverse student population. This is accomplished through the cultural and academic mix of our student body. In short, the Saint Paul's School experience is unique among schools of this area. Ninety-eight percent of our graduates attend 4-year colleges upon graduation.
